FRESH AIR FIEND HAS FOOLISH IDEAS

Health Officer Suggests Reasonable Ventilation For All

IS NOT CONSIDERATE

It is not Necessary to Turn Living Rooms Into a Miniature Wind Swept Prarie.

In an recent interview, Health Officer, Dr. L. E. Foulks, in discussing the value of public health educational propaganda, said:

"It is very unfortunate that many people have a tendency to go to extremes in trying to follow out some simple rule of health. This is very aptly illustrated by the actions of what we may well call the 'fresh-air fiend.' It may sound a little harsh to call these people fiends, but some of their work is so deadly and they insist upon carrying out their foolish ideas without the least consideration for the comfort, health or rights of others, that their actions at times can only be looked upon as fiendish.

When we advise a person as to the importance of fresh air, we simply mean in the first place he should go out in the open as much as possible and thereby obtain not only pure air under natural and normal conditions, but the sunlight and exercise also, that naturally go with it.

In the second place, we mean that in his place of business and in his home, he should see that proper and reasonable ventilation is secured. You will note that I say 'reasonable" ventilation in order to differentiate it from the foolish and unreasonable. Now right here is where our "fresh-air-fiend" starts in with his fool stunts. The word 'reasonable' is not in his vocabulary. He has no idea what it means, and he would not thank you if you told him, either.

He gets this fresh air desire firmly fixed in his not too ample mind, and he is fully satisfied that it is the one and only panacea for all human ills, from corns to consumption. He becomes firmly convinced that if he can only keep himself filled up to the muzzle with fresh air, he is disease-proof, germ-proof and doubtless fool-proof! And what is more, he is going to have fresh air at any cost—that is at any cost to others, for you must remember that our typical fresh-air-fiend has absolutely no consideration for any person but himself!

Now that is just where the rub come in. He will enter a room where you are quietly, peacefully and comfortably resting, and after sniffing about like a Bulgarian cheese hound for a few moments, will say: "My, my, why you need some fresh air in here." Then he will go to the window and raise the sash as far as it will go, letting in a draft of damp, chilly air on your unprotected person. You soon begin to sneeze, but he don't notice that and says: "There don't you call that fine? Nothing like plenty of fresh air!" And then you grit your teeth and say: "! ?—!—!" etc.

All laws and rules are founded on common sense, hence the fool actions of such cranks as above described, are always calculated to do much harm by turning an otherwise plain, simple and valuable rule of health, into an actual menace as well as an absurdity!

In order to get sufficient ventilation, it is not at all necessary to turn our living rooms into miniature wind-swept prairie. A room swept by chilly draft of air is a hundred times more dangerous to health than a poorly ventilated one.

I might explain right here that many of our old ideas about ventilation have been sadly upset by recent very exhaustive scientific tests conducted by the New York State Commission on Ventilation It has been fully demonstrated beyond any question of doubt that an ordinary sized family in a room of reasonable size, cannot possibly reduce the oxygen content, or increase the carbon dioxide to such an extent as will have any bad effects upon the occupants. And this without any attempt at special ventilation. There are only two factors that are harmful under such conditions, and these are the temperature and humidity. Hence in ventilating the living rooms of a house, it is only necessary to do so to such as extent as will maintain the proper temperature and the normal per cent of humidity. And right here is the trouble in many houses during the winter season. The steam from the kitchen is often permitted to penetrate the living rooms and thereby raise the humidity almost to the point of saturation, or 100 per cent. A simple indication of high humidity is the formation of moisture upon the windows. This high degree of moisture is not only injurious to health, but it also ruins your furniture by softening the glue and warping the woodwork. So remember that heat combined with moisture are the two dangerous factors in a poorly ventilated room. In other words if by simple care and reasonable ventilation the temperature and humidity are properly regulated, you need not worry about there being too little oxygen or too much carbon dioxide.

The point I wish to make here is that ventilation, like anything else, can be carried to extremes, and when this is done, it becomes a danger in place of a benefit.

If a man wants to sleep in a room with snow drifting over his bed, why by all means let him do so. If can stand it, all well and good, but it don't prove that others can and should do likewise! You know that the medicine that will cure the shoemaker, may kill the carpenter! You cant give the same does to every person and expect all to live through it! How many of us have suffered from the fresh-air-fiend who boards the train and takes the vacant seat just ahead, and promptly raises the window, no matter how cold the day may be. There are few cars on any railroad at the present time which are not reasonably ventilated, but that fact don't worry our fresh-air-fiend at all. He personally wants air, and lots of it, and he don't care a hang about anybody else. The strong, direct and chilling draft passes by him and hits you square in the face. You can't change your place, for no vacant seat is left. So you, along with the others in the seats back of you, have to sit and shiver. It is through the fool actions of just such a weak-minded, shallow brained, poor imitation of a human being, that many people have been sent to premature graves. Such a person as that needs the prompt attention of the fool-killer, and he needs him quick.

BARS TEUTON DELEGATES

Secretary Wilson's Ruling Closes Conference To Them

Washington, Oct. 22.—Under Secretary of Labor Wilson's interpretation of the treaty, voting in the forthcoming International Labor Conference will be confined to those delegates representing only the nations mentioned in the annex of the League of Nations covenant, it was declared in a statement by the Secretary made public yesterday. This interpretation would bar German and Austrian delegates from voting.

The Secretary's interpretation, which holds that the United States in convening and organizing the conference has assumed certain obligations which it cannot permit even the Supreme Council to abrogate, is in direct conflict with the Supreme Council's own ruling.

As a solution of the difficulty, Secretary Wilson suggests that an informal conference be called for discussion of subjects by all delegates, provided final determination was left to the members proper.

RED CROSS PREPARES FOR XMAS ROLL CALL

Drive For Membership Will Be Held November 2-11

HOUSE CANVASS NOV. 9

Organization Perfected Last Night—Address By C. S. Clark, of National Headquarters, Washington.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Red Cross Roll Call was held at the Chamber of Commerce last night. This meeting was addressed by C. S. Clarke from the Red Cross headquarters, Washington. D. C., who gave a most interesting talk.

J. T. Preston is secretary of the roll call. Other officers are Mrs J. Y Williams, secretary, Carroll Pierce treasurer The following were named chairmen of committees:

Churches, Capt. Louis N. Duffey; publicity, Mrs. Geo. R. Hill; posters, Miss Collins Jones; streets and moving pictures, Mrs Lucy Evans, Miss Nellie Uhler, Miss Katherine Waller; stores, Mrs. Richard Gibson; banks, Mrs. Geo. E. Warfield, Miss Sadie Field; Miss M. E Young; window dressing, Mrs. O. W. Price; business offices, H. A. Bales, E. F. Ticer; Mrs. C. E. Yaeger, Miss Frances Fairfax, Miss Ethel Remington, Miss Bertha Allison, four minute speakers, Major J. Randall Caton, schools, Miss Eddie Dickert.

The roll call will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 6-7-8 and on Sunday, November 9, a house to house canvass will be made. A committee composed of a representative from each church will be formed to secure workers from all churches.

C. S. Clark, executive secretary of the Third Red Cross Roll Call at National Headquarters, Washington, D. C. delivered in part the following address:

The greatest organization of Mercy the world has ever known is standing waiting for something to do and something to do it with. The American Red Cross, that during the nineteen months of the war enrolled over twenty million adult Americans in its membership, gathered and spent more than four hundred million dollars, created articles of necessity and comfort valued at one hundred million more; is standing on the threshold of its next chapter of activity. With the coming of the third Red Cross Roll Call, which is to celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, and will close on November 11th the Red Cross expects to re-enroll its membership; to enlist some millions more; and to raise a fund of Fifteen Million Dollars with which to close up its war work and begin the activities of its reconstruction campaign.

When the armistice was signed everybody made up their minds that the war was over, and after a few hours of hysterical and emotional celebration everybody prepared to get out and to get down to normal peace time activity. It was supposed by thoughtless observers that wartime machinery would immediately be trashed. The peculiar thing was that when it came to the American Red Cross it simply refused to be trashed. In spite of the relaxation that followed the armistice; in spite of the ten-fold more debilitating influence of an epidemic of influenza that shut down half the country and made impossible any propaganda work, or indeed any public meetings; in spite of it all, 19,948,920 adult Americans deliberately walked up and enrolled themselves as members of the Red Cross.

This membership of course is an annual one. It must be renewed from year to year, or the Red Cross as a going organization would cease to exist, save at the hands of a few hundred permanent members made so by generous gifts in the past. There will be no trouble about the enrollment. Not only our present membership, but hundreds of thousands more are waiting, eager to be shown what there is to do, and as eager to do it.

STATUS OF U. S. STEAMSHIP

United States Steamship, which has come into prominence through talk of merging with American Ship and Commerce, is capitalized at $25,000,000, having 1,250,000 shares of $10 par value outstanding. It is a holding corporation, owning all of the capital stock of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, the Groton Iron Works the Steamship Operating Company, and also fifty-one per cent of the Hudson Navigation Company. It recently has made a contract whereby it will become an important ocean transportation company. That contract involves taking over from the United States Shipping Board of a number of steamships which were designed for government use during the war period. Eight ships are on the water and two additional ships will be launched before November 1. Conditions of transfer are extremely favorable to the company.

MISS JULIA STRUDER IS FATALLY INJURED

Struck by Northbound Freight Over W.-Va., Road at St. Elmo

DIES EARLY TODAY

Young Woman Was Endeavoring to Catch Southbound Train—Skull Is Fractured.

Miss Julia Delia Struder, nineteen years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Struder, of Franconia, Fairfax county, was struck and fatally injured about 7 o'clock last night by northbound freight car over the Washington-Virginia Railway while at St. Elmo, Alexandria county, several miles south of this city.

The young woman was picked up in an unconscious condition and placed aboard a passenger train over that line and brought to the Alexandria Hospital and treated for a fracture at the base of the skull by Dr. Llewellyn Powell. She died at 6 o'clock this morning without regaining consciousness.

From what could be learned of the affair the young woman was endeavoring to catch a southbound train for Del Ray when she met with the fatal accident, evidently failing to see the approaching freight as she crossed the track.

Miss Struder lived with her sister, Mrs. John West, at Del Ray, and was employed in Washington.

The deceased in addition to her parents is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

A coroner's jury summoned by Dr. T. M. Jones met this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Wheatley's mortuary chapel and viewed the body. and was adjourned subject to the call of the coroner. 10 CENTS INCREASE IN ROUND TRIP

Interstate Commerce Commission Grants W.-Va., Rwy. Co., Fare Boost

2½ CENT A MILE RATE

Ten Per Cent Increase On All Commutation Tickets Between Here and Washington Granted.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has granted an increase in rates between this city and Washington to the Washington-Virginia Railway Company. On commutation tickets the increase is ten per cent and on single tickets passengers will pay at the rate of two and one half cents per mile.

This means that as soon as the new schedule becomes operative Alexandrians and Washingtonians as well will pay thirty-five cents for a round trip between this city and Washington. This ticket formerly sold for twenty-five cents. A single trip will cost eighteen cents, which is an increase of three cents as the present price of a single trip is fifteen cents.

Monthly commutations tickets will cost the purchaser $4.45 cents which now sell for $4.05, this ticket as well as all other commutation tickets being increased. The twenty-five trip ticket or family ticket will cost $2.75 which now costs $2.50.

Notice of the new rates has just been received by D. R. Stansbury, president of the Mount Vernon Commuters' Association and Attorney Charles Henry Smith, who represented the commuters.

First unofficial information received here was to the effect that there would be no increase on this line

The foregoing increase also effects those on the Mount Vernon line in the same proportion.

It is set forth by the commission in paragraph (b) One way fares on a basis not to exceed 2 1-2 cents per mile, minimum fare 5 cents; children under five years of age when accompanied by parent or guardian holding proper transportation to be carried free; children five years of age and under twelve years of age to be charged one half adult fare; minimum children's fare five cents; fractions of a cent to be considered as a full cent.

"Round trip fares not to exceed double the one-way fare authorized in paragrah (b)

"The existing tariff fares for fifty-two trip monthly, twenty-five trip family and forty-eight trip school commutation tickets may be increased by not to exceed ten per cent."

Rates on milk: Five gallon cans or less 12 1-2 cents; over five but not over 7 1-2 gallons 19 cents; over 7 1-2 but not over 10 gallons, 25 cents.

It is set forth that the approval for increases given is void if the schedule issued is not filed with the commission on or before December 31, 1919.

It is expected that the company soon will put the increase rates in operation.

An increase also is granted on the Falls Church and Rosslyn branch,

RUSSIAN LOSES $500

Muscovite Drew Money From Bank to Return to Russia

Chester, Pa., Oct. 22.—According to the story of John Jilorich told the police yesterday morning, he drew $350 out of the postal savings fund, and with an additional $150 tucked into his vest pocket walked down the street in the direction of his home. He had taken out the money with the intention of returning to his home in Russia. While on his way home Jilorich was stopped by a couple of men who asked him to direct them to an address in the Fifth Ward.

John gave the necessary information, and one of the men offered him a five dollar bill as a reward for his courtesy. "But I don't need your money." Jilorich responded, "I have plenty of my own," and he fished out the $500 as proof and handed over the amount for the stranger to count.

When Jilorich reached home he found in bundle of paper in his pocket where the money was supposed to be, and his gold watch and chain which he says is worth a hundred more were gone.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, Verna Viola Carter, who departed this life one year ago.

An angel took this lovely plant
This pleasing human flower
Away from frosts of winter
To bloom in God's own bower.
Then why shed tears of pity
When there is cause for mirth?
For little Verna is God's own flower
Even more than when on earth.
We shall meet her some bright morning
Resting by the water fair,
She is waiting for our coming
In the upper garden there.

252-1p. By the family

A tribute of love and memory to our little boy, Richard J. Rinker, who left us three months ago today.

Gone but not forgotten,
In his youthful days,
Sought and loved by all who knew him,
Loved and dearly loved.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear
God loved him, too, and thought it best,
So took him to his home to rest.

RIOTS AT STEEL MILLS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22.—Rioting, which broke out in the Braddock steel mill district yesterday, was renewed last night when a crowd of about 50 strikers and their sympathizers clashed with several workmen who had just left one of the plants shortly before. One man was shot during the melee and many others were injured.

State troopers, attracted by the noise of the fight, rushed to the scene on their mounts, and rode into the mob, using riot clubs freely. When the troopers put in an appearance, the crowd greeted them with a shower of stones, clubs and bottles, and an unidentified man drew a revolver and fired five shots, one of which struck Joseph Dinnock, in the vicinity of whose home the disorder occurred. He was not seriously hurt.

The troopers finally dispersed the mob.

THE COMING WINTER

"Nuts are thicker'n woodticks in the big woods, but the squirrels are storin' 'way less of 'em than you town folks is puttin' 'way taters at $1.50 an' up a bushel, and you can just bet all the bearskins you fellers ain't goin' to get that the winter'll be a darn mild one," said Hermit Joe, of the Big Kinzua, near Kane, Pa., on Monday to hunters in that neighborhood.

The old man, who predicts the winters every year, explained further is reasons for risking its reputation on a mild winter. The bears this year are mostly scrawny and light-furred, according to Joe, and they are not in a hurry to get into their winter homes, while the fur on small animals indicates to the hermit that the winter will be light. Old neighbors say his predictions never fail.

Those who believe in the indication referred to above will derive some satisfaction in the face of the imminency of a miners' strike which the government is endevoring to avert.

It will, however, be remembered that so-called "weather prophets" predicted severe conditions for the winter of 1918-1919., which, contrary to prognostications, proved to be exceedingly mild. It was shown by certain signs that the winter of 1917 1918 would be friendly to man and beast, but the weather proved to be of a severe and extended type.

ORIGIN OF THE ASTORS

In his capacity as owner of a London magazine the late William Waldorf Astor some years ago published a sketch of his family, and its rise to great wealth, in which he was forced to admit the humble circumstances which led his great grandfather to emigrate to America.

The Philadelphia Record calls attention to the fact that "the Astors were butchers in the little village of Waldorf, Germany, a trifling detail which their descendant tried to explain and mitigate by saying that they were really of noble birth, sprung from a branch of the Spanish family of Astorga, which had settled in Germany many years before and had become gradually impoverished. Unfortunately for this fiction, the Spanish Astorgas are still in existence, and a member of the family hastened to make an indignant denial that there was any connection with the plutocratic Astors. The moral of this incident seems to be that it is dangerous to invent purely fictitious pedigrees. The butchers of Waldorf, were no doubt excellent people, and the American expatriate had no cause to be ashamed of them. In the opinion of most persons they are more to be respected than the snobbish individual who has just passed away."

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Henry VIII enriched himself and his friends by the dissolution of the monasteries, because he took the real estate or gave it to his friends who helped him to get wives and to get rid of them. English newspapers are now threatening the confiscation of church property on an even greater scale.

It is seriously urged that the Church of England be not only disestablished, but that all its property be confiscated and applied to the reduction of the war debt. A large part of the people of England belong to other communions or none, so that the national church is not really national; it is no more than one of many denominations. The Statist (which, it is hardly necessary to explain, is not a religious, but a financial paper) believes that a very large sum of money could be obtained for Westminster Abbey.

"We have no doubt of it," says an exchange, "If a war which is supposed to have expressed England's idealism has so completely extirpated idealism that the country would exchange the ashes of its immortal geniuses and its great national heroes for money, there is no doubt that money in large measure could be got for it. The Catholic nobility and gentry of England might buy it for the church which they regard as the rightful owner of that grand historic structure. A syndicate of Hebrew bankers might put up a very large sum for it and convert it into a synagogue.

"But we have little doubt that it would come to this country if it were offered at auction. Of course, the tombs would come with it. They are a part of the real estate. A dozen Americans could make a joint bid that other group of capitalists would match, and Westminster Abbey could be taken down and re-erected in—say Chicago—stone by stone, with the graves of poets and kings and orators and statesmen, who, having in their own time made England great and famous, might now that they are unquestionably dead, be made to pay a large part of the British war debt."

GERMANY'S REAL ENEMY

Frederick H. Wagner, of Baltimore, prints a long and interesting letter in the Manufacturers' Record on conditions in Germany. Among other things he says:

"It was on the morning of July 16, at reveille, that I first saw the Stars and Stripes flying high in the air over Ehrenbreitstein, the proudest, the strongest fortress in Germany, a fact which nobody in the spring of 1914 would have deemed even a remote possibility; but there it was, for all the world to see and to marvel at. I had passed through devastated France and Belgium; had stood in the American cemetery at Belleau Woods, with its 2500 wooden crosses; had passed through the American cemetery at Romagn, with its 23,000 wooden crosses, and had almost begun to think that the whole world had crumbled down in ruins as one scene of devastation after the other was opened up before me, when my automobile rolled into Luxemburg and from there on into peaceful, quiet, orderly Germany, the streets in many of the towns bearing arches of welcome to the home coming warrior.

"The Stars and Stripes, floating so gloriously over once proud Ehrenbreitstein, heralded peace, and told the world that the war was ended; that the war of position and of movement had ceased; that the German nation had capitulated and had laid down its arms; but did it also proclaim that another war was in the making, one that time would bring to fruition? Did it announce that Germany had quietly accepted the world's mandate, and that strife had really ceased? I think not; on the battlefields of France and Belgium, yes, but from all my observations I feel that the war is to be carried on, but in a different manner, today. To be carried on with the Germans hoping that as the years roll by Mars will once more smile upon them and permit them to take revenge for their fall, their humiliation, and for Germany's awful set-back from the position of one of the world's leading nations.

"And who is the real enemy in the mind of every German? Not England any longer, but the United States; not perfidious Albion, but perfidious America, for against us is vented all the spleen of the humiliated German, because had it not been for our intervention he feels that the troops which returned home defeated would have defeated would have entered Germany as victors, the rest of the world tied to the wheels of his triumphant chariot."

HOUSEHOLD CARES

Tax the Women of Alexandria the Same as Elsewhere

Hard to attend to household duties
With a constantly aching back.

A woman should not have a bad back,

And she seldom would if the kidneys were well.

Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands.

Have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years.

Read what this Alexandria woman says:

Mrs. H. A. Miles, 1209 Prince St., says: "My back pained so I couldn't do my housework without a great deal of misery. I had sharp twinges through the small of my back over my kidneys and I felt weak and languid. Mornings I just hated to get up. My kidneys were sluggish. I only had to use one box of Doan's Kidney Pills before I could feel I was getting better. The pains eased up and my kidneys were regulated. In a short time I was entirely cured of kidney complaint."

WILL FIGHT CANDY CHARGE

Richmond Attorney Intimates Poison Package Was Fake

Richmond, Va., Oct. 22.—James C. Page, counsel for Mrs. Helen Reid Marshall, who is charged with sending a box of poisoned candy through the mail to her daughterin-law, Mrs. Lucy Harwood Marshall, stated yesterday that the case, which is set for trial in Federal Court December 9, will be fought to the limit. He said he was first called into the case last June, soon after the poisoned candy was alleged to have been received. There was a conference of members of both families at the Jefferson Hotel, at which young Marshall was present. The suggestion was made, according to the attorney, that prosecution of Mrs. Marshall, Sr., would not be pressed if young Marshall would remain in Richmond with his wife, who, it seems, had been with her parents for some time.

Page went on to say that he was not in the least impressed with the candy package and its contents. He could detect no stamps on the wrapper in which the box was supposed to have been mailed. In the box, he was informed had been found two handkerchiefs, each with the name of Marshall's mother on it.

CHURCH JEWELRY

Manufacturers Report Heavy Buying Of Silver, Gold and Platinum

New York, Oct. 22.—Manufacturers of religious articles report an enormous demand for rosaries, crucifixes and scapular medals made of platinum, silver and gold for the coming Christmas holidays. Gold rosaries and crucifixes, incrusted with pearls, diamonds and other precious stones, all are meeting unusual favor. Although the shortage of platinum has made itself felt among these manufacturers many of the orders are being filled from stocks already on hand and left overs from previous seasons.

SHIPS TO ALLIES

Supreme Counsel Orders Vessels Held by Dutch to be Released

Five more German merchant ships will pass into the hands of the allied governments, in accordance with the decree of the supreme council, the State Department announced yesterday.

They were formerly owned by the Hamburg-American Line and the German government held they could not be turned over to the allies because they were sold to Holland in 1915 and 1916. This excuse was termed a subterfuge by the the supreme council.

Yesterday the Cabinet at its regular meeting under the chairmanship of Secretary of State Lansing took up the subject of the former German ships now under American registry which the Shipping Board prevented from passing under the control of Great Britain.

The German ships now held by Dutch navigation interests and which will proceed to the Firth of Forth for "dlivery to the allied and associated powers," are the Johann Heinrich Burchard, William Oswald, Braunschweig, Deneral and Nassau.

DEADLOCK ON MINE STRIKE

Conference Brings no Settlement—Both Factions Determined

All attemets on the part of Secretary of Labor Wilson to bring together the coal operators' and miners' representatives so that means might be found to avert the threatened strike of the miners came to naught yesterday. Another conference will be held today.

The operators and John L. Lewis president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other leaders of the union, along with Secretary Wilson, were in session practically all day yesterday. Thos. F. Brewester, head of the operators, said no definite conclusion had been reached, when adjournment was taken late yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Lewis declared the attitude of the miners was "unchanged." This means a continuation of the deadlock which has existed for some. In the meantime, the nation is one thy nearer the general coal miners' strike, which is slated to begin November 1.

The miners are standing pat on their demands, and the operators are a unit in refusing to grant them. Secretary Wilson made a plea for a compromise, but it fell on unheeding ears.

WILSON DICTATES LETTER

Also Looks Over State Papers and Makes Certain Inquiries

The following bulletin on the President's condition was issued at the White House at 10 o'clock last night:

"The President felt stronger today. He tried to do more than he has done since his illness began, and as a consequence he is very tired tonight."

Yesterday was a busy day for President Wilson because he insisted on dictating a long letter to the Industrial Conference and thereby violated the absolute rest and quiet prescription of his physicians. The past few days, however, have been such good ones for the President that no ill effects are expected to come from his exertion.

The President also looked over some state papers, it is understood and inquired about the progress made by Secretary of Labor Wilson, who is attempting to avert the threatened coal miners' strike, slated to begin November 1. Despite the fact that he was somewhat restless Monday night he showed no signs of fatigue yesterday morning, and Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his personal physician, was well pleased with his condition.

ALSACE REVOLT PLANNED

Arch Conspirator, Two Accomplices Arrested, 30,000 Marks, Much Literature Found.

Paris, Oct. 22.—Plans for a revolt in Alsace to take place November 9, have been discovered at Strasbourg, according to the Echo de Paris. The alleged church conspirator, an engineer named Koessler, has been arrested with two accomplices, and it is said that a leader of a Socialist union a former Alsatian deputy and a French socialist are believed to be implicated.

A search of Koesslers residence is reported to have revealed a large number of propaganda pamphlet a fund of 35,000 marks. The revolt was to be called on the day that a communist uprising in Germany is said to be planned.

While a Nebraska farmer living near Kimball was working with his harvesting crew, wondering how he could get more help, an airplane landed in a cleared patch of wheat stubble, and the aviator walked over to the harvesters, leaving the other occupant of the airplane in his seat. The rest is up to you."

MAY NEVER COME TO VOTE

Johnson Amendment Dealing With Alleged Inequality in League Doomed

The Johnson amendment dealing with the alleged inequality of representation in the league of nations may never come to a vote, it was learned last night.

Convinced that the amendment is doomed to defeat, the opponents of the league of nations, rather than suffer further humiliation, may decide to withdraw the amendment and resubmit it as a reservation.

Treaty opponents are beginning to realize, it is said, that they have no support, except that manufactured by them, in their States, and are seeking the least conspicuous way out. They have fallen back on reservations as a method to attract the least attention to their plight.

Even in the matter of reservations the opponents of peace were cautiously feeling their way, with no assurance that they could command sufficient votes.

One Office Will Drop Ten Per Cent Monthly Until June

Workers in the office of director of finance, purchasing and supply division, War Department, are on "pins and needles" regarding their positions.

Ten per cent of the force—170 workers—were cut from the payroll Saturday, some getting transfers to other government jobs, but a majority losing out altogether.

A 10 per cent reduction will be made in the force each month from now on until next June. The reduction is made necessary through lack of appropriations. Brig. Gen. H. M. Lord is director of finance.

CAR MEN WILL NOT STRIKE

Those at Norfolk Agree to Accept Compromise Offer

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 22.—Motormen and conductors operating cars of the Virginia Railway and Power Company here have voted not to strike, and to accept the traction company's compromise offer of a five per cent increase in pay. One week ago, conductors and motormen in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Richmond and Petersburg voted to go on strike if increases amounting to about 20 per cent were not granted.

At a conference between representatives of the union and the traction company, held in Richmond Saturday, the men refused to consider a profit sharing plan. The union committee agreed to an increase of five per cent., which increase has been ratified by the employes of the company in Norfolk. An agreement is to be signed, fixing wages of motormen and conductors at from 41 to 45 cents an hour, plus five per cent. This agreement will be in force for one year.

RIOTERS GO TO JAIL

Men Convicted at Waynesboro, Pa., Get 30 Days

Waynesboro, Pa., Oct. 22.—Fifty-three of the fifty-eight men convicted for their part in the recent strike disorders were sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail and pay a fine of $25 and the costs of prosecution by Judge W. Rush Gilla, after their appeal for a new hearing of the cases had been refused in court Monday. The men sentenced on more than one count will serve their different sentences concurrently, so they will not be confined more than 30 days.

The men started serving their 30 days Monday, immediately after sentence had been passed.

PRINCE IS ENRAGED

Rupprecht, of Bavaria, Says he Will Never Face Trial

Geneva, Oct. 22.—Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, who commanded the German forces in northern France and Belgium, learned Monday at Davos, where he has been staying, that he is included in the French list of six hundred or more wanted by the allies for trial for crimes against international law. He became furious and said he would never give himself up. Prince Rupprecht is accused of being the first army commander to employ poisonous gases, when several of the commanders opposed such a project.

It is reported here that Count von Berchtold, former Austro-Hungarian foriegn minister, is on the Italian list as one of the principal instigators of the war. Several other officers, at present in Switzerland, appeared on the list.

The question of extradition from neutral country is expected to be settled with Switzerland, thus creating a precedent for Holland in the case of the German emperor.

AVOID THE "FLU" BUILD UP NOW

You can almost surely escape the "Flu" and Grippy Colds this Fall by Taking Chasco- Vin a Most Palatable Body-Building Tonic.

Don't put it off its, much easier to keep the "Flu" away than it is to cure it.

No one would have the awful experience of a year ago repeated hence all should take every precaution, especially those who are weak nervous and run-down. They absolutely need Chasco-Vin.

During the last epidemic thousands were safeguarded by taking Chasco-Vin, a body-building tonic that does build.

It is the toning up of the system that counts in keeping the "Flu" away.

In conjunction with Chasco-Vin we advise using a good anti-septic solution for the throat and nose and also that the bowels be kept open.

Chasco-Vin is sold by Edgar Warfield, jr., King and Pitt Streets.

URGE HALT IN STRIKES

linghuysen and Others Assail Frenzy as Class Rule

While representatives of the min- and operators were conferring h Secretary Wilson yesterday in a effort to avert the threatened ke of bituminous coal workers vember 1, the proposed walkout denounced in the Senate as a ke of union officers and not of men, and as an effort to bring ut class control.

enator Frelinghuysen, chairman the Senate committee, investigat- the coal strike, started the dis- sion by denouncing trade union- under its present leadership as a w autocracy" tending toward bol- vism.

Nearly a dozen senators joined in strike discussion in the Senate, st of them expressing the opinion t while the miners' demands were mitted only to the operators in central competitive region in nsylvania and the middle West, strike would be nationwide.

The New Jersey senator said the nands of the miners, half of them ns, were "inordinate" and could be granted, as they would result decreased production and an in- ase in price to the consumer of m $2 to $2.50 a ton.

"The time has come to put an end this new autocracy," sair the sena- . "Unless collective bargaining be continued in an orderly man- , and with due regard to the pub- welfare and comfort, a new rem- must be applied—the remedy of king labor amenable to the same tent as capital to the laws of the ited States."

Referring to the steel strike, the w York longshoremen's strike, the ston police strike, the New York ssmen's strike and other labor dis rbances, Senator Frelinghuysen id:

"Where will this striking frenzy op? Unless a halt is called we shall reach a state of anarchy infinitely worse than the autocracy of Germany This is class government and not democracy."

"There is a determined movement throughout the land to assume control of all government functions in behalf of a class," continued Senator Frelinghuysen. This country is not ready to be dictated to by a horde of aliens. Sovietism means class rule. We cannot permit that in America.

"When labor defies law and order through the power of its union, it is sounding its own death knell and digging its own grave.

"The terrorism spread by the radicals and lawless in these unions creates fear for the safety of their homes, their wives and their children"

Senator Pomerene (Democrat), of Ohio, declared the threatened strike would be one of union delegates and officers and not of miners themselves.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly: provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act, (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution) provide for the organization and government of cities and towns without regard to and unaffected by any of the provisions of this article, except those of sections one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five, (except so far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-five prescribe the duties of mayor and the power of veto) one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven and one hundred and twenty-eight of this article, and except those mentioned in sub-section (c) of this section. The term "council" as used in any of said sections shall include any board of supervisors having authority for the city or town, and all ordinances enacted and resolutions adopted by such body shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as ordinances or resolutions enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective, and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 133 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (the majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to section one hundred and thirty-three, article nine, of the Constitution of Virginia, be and is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly at the first regular session held after the next general election of members of the house of delegates for its concurrence in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be not more than three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

Men and women may serve as school trustees in said districts, and in cities and in towns forming separate school districts.

A RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 136 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next session of the general assembly.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-six, which is in the following words:

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate five mills on the dollar in any one year, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided, that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate in any one year a rate of levy to be fixed by law, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require: provided that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

Clerk House of Delegates of Virginia.

STRIKE IS ENDED

Delegates of 53 Longshoremen's Unions Unanimously Agree to Return This Morning

New York, Oct. 22.—The strike of longshoremen, which began three weeks ago and completely tied up coastwise and trans-Atlantic shipping in this port, was called off yesterday afternoon when delegates of 53 local unions agreed unanimously to return to work today.

The agreement was brought about by T. V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, who had opposed the strike from the outset.

FEARS DIVIDED CHURCH

T. N. Page Warns Episcopalians of Doctrinal Changes

Detroit, Oct. 22.—Possibility of a division in the Protestant Episcopal Church was brought to the attention of the triennial general convention here again yesterday during a fight on the floor of the house of deputies against the acceptance of a prayer for the blessing of graves.

Thomas Nelson Page, former United States Ambassador to Italy denouncing the adoption of prayers for the dead, swayed the delegates to such an extent that the prayer objected to was rejected.

"Before you know it you will find your church divided," he said. "Better be divided than that we be led into paths we know not. The gentlemen of the prayerbook revision commission received no authority to consider anything touching the doctrines of this church."

Mr. Page introduced a resolution questioning the commission as to its authority to touch the church doctrines in its work of revision and been made.

Outlining a social policy for the church, Bishop Brewester suggested a stand for; Right and justice everywhere; living wages ;the principle of collective bargaining; freedom of the individual worker from coercion; a part for the employed in the internal management of industry; a weekly rest day; stopping of exploitation of labor of women and children; placing economics on a broader human basis; reorganization of industry which must be an end to autocratic mastership; and end to paternal patronage in welfare work and reasonable relations of partnership between capital and labor.

In line with this attitude was the adoption of resolutions by the house of deputies urging capital and labor to accept "the principle of partnership as the business aspect of brotherhood," to submit all differences to arbitration and recognize service to the general community rather than individual gain as the primary motive in all endeavor.

Another resolution condemned mob violence.

The house of bishops adopted resolutions asking for an amendment to the National Constitution permitting the drafting of uniform marriage and divorce laws and the appointment of a congressional committee to inquire into the alleged evil influence of certain types of motion pictures. Bishop E. V. Shaylor, of Nebraska, made the claim that the Omaha race riots were caused in part by improper motion pictures.

THE INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

Two Vital Principles Are Defeated —Conditions in Statu Quo

The labor group in the Industrial Conference was decisively defeated yesterday on the two vital issues for which it has been fighting since the beginning of the session.

These two issues were the Russell-Endicott resolution recognizing the right of wage earners to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing and the Gompers resolution calling for appointment of a committee to settle the steel strike.

Both the employer and the public groups voted against labor on these two propositions. Three substitutes for the Russell-Endicott resolutions on collective bargaining, including that offered by the employer group, were also defeated.

Both the members of the employer group and the labor group pressed for a decision yesterday, with the result that every measure proposed was defeated. Thus the conference is virtually back to where it started two weeks ago.

Whether the labor group will continue to participate in the conference after being defeated on the paramount issue is a question which the members of the labor group will settle this morning. A number of the members expressed the sentiment last night that, having failed to secure recognition of the rights set forth in the Russell-Endicott resolution, there was nothing to be expected from the conference.

ORDERED TO STRIKE

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 22.—The textile workers were Monday ordered to go on strike the beginning of November. Altogether 100,000 cotton workers are affected by the strike call, which is the result of a deadlock in the negotiations with the employers regarding the workers' demand for a wage increase.

Now Is a Good Time To Drive Out Catarrh

The Trouble Is in the Blood.

Summer catarrh, with its nauseous discharge, stuffed up glands, difficult breathing, and summer colds, is bad enough, but the worst of it is yet to come if you neglect to check the growth that is forming to attack you with ten-fold greater power during the winter.

That's why it is so important to treat catarrh with S. S. S. during warm weather.

It is now an established fact that catarrh is in the blood and that lotions and salves do not give relief. The experience of others has proven that S. S. S. strikes at the root of the trouble. Waste no time in this matter, for it is of the utmost importance. Write to our Medical Advisor about your case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. 53, Atlanta, Ga.

LIEUT. DANIEL H. RUCKER

Government
Thanks Local Engineer for Part in War

WAR DEPARTMENT
Office of the Chief of Engineers
Washington

Lieut. Daniel H. Rucker, Engrs.,
Clarendon, Va.

Sir:

1. The demobilization of the army having made further sacrifice on your part unnecessary, I wish to convey to you my appreciation of your efforts in behalf of your country during the recent emergency. The Engineers of the United States have by their patriotic and self-sacrificing conduct well merited greater thanks and appreciation than it is possible for me or any other one man to give them. I am sure, however, that when it is possible to relate in full the efforts and accomplishments of American Engineers, both overseas and in this country, that the people of the United States will show appreciation of their efforts in no uncertain terms.

2. That you have been one of these Engineers and have contributed your part toward this successful accomplishment constitutes in itself an honor greater than any official expression of opinion. Permit me, however, to extend to you my personal thanks and those of the Corps of Engineers for your efforts and assistance.

Very respectfully,
W. M. BLACK,
Major General, Chief of Engineers.

Lieut. Rucker has done his "bit" toward making the world safe for democracy, as the above letter shows. He is now making a bid for your patronage—carrying out the same principles of fair dealing that earned him this personal letter from the Chief of Engineers. The Alexandria Lumber Co., is in business to serve the public and a personal visit to our plant will prove this. You are sure of a hearty welcome.

STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE

Refused Holiday to Celebrate Gridiron Victory, They Refuse to Attend Classes

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Denied a holiday to celebrate the victory of Syracuse over Pittsburgh, on the grid iron, 2,000 Syracuse University students went on strike Monday, refused to attend classes, broke up classes that were in session, paraded about the college, smashing into classrooms fought professors and wound up with a grand parade and celebration around the university building.

The students refused to listen to Chancellor Day's pleas to go back to work, hooting and yelling. The Chancellor snatched a memorandum book, and from a point of vantage on the campus tried to take the names of the refactory students. Later he declared he would expel all the ringleaders.

One party of students attempted to enter the classroom of Prof. Warren G. Bullard, of the mathematics department, and the professor, protesting their entrance, found himself in a rough and tumble struggle. Several students seized and held him while others entered the room and tried to get those inside to come out. Many professors locked themselves in to save their classes.

Late in the afternoon the students, singing, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" toured the college grounds, led by an improvised tin band. Considerable damage, such as broken window and battered doors, resulted in some of the buildings.

END OF DAYLIGHT SAVING

After eighteen months of saving daylight, the United States will readjust its timepieces Sunday at 2 a. m. At that hour the daylight saving law becomes ineffective, and the master clock at the United States Observatory will be set back one hour. Clocks throughout the country will be regulated accordingly.

Although the "lost" hour of sunshine will be missed by many city folk, farmers who conducted a strenuous campaign against the law in Congress will rejoice.

Fourteen-Year-Old Boys at Hazelton Seek Working Certificates

Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 22.—Officials of the Hazelton City School District report a great rush for working certificates from boys and girls whose parents celebrate the fourteenth birthdays of their children by getting them these papers as presents, so that they can take positions in mills and factories.

Often the call of the certificates comes the night before the anniversary so eager are fathers and mothers to put their offspring into fields of manuel labor.

A case was reported where a 14-year-old boy wanted papers so he could take a job in a saloon, but his application was turned down.

THEATRES

GRAND THEATRE

Mary Pickford is presented in another photoplay that will increase her popularity in Paramount's four part screen adaptation of Frances Hodgson Burnett's play "Esmeralda," which comes to the Grand Theatre tonight.

Miss Pickford delineates this famous character study with all the sweetness and tenderness that is hers. In "Esmeralda" the gifted authoress has cleverly interwoven real pathos, simple and beautiful sentiment and quaint originality and humor.

Whether in Esmeralda's quiet simple little home on the farm, or in the whirl of society's life in a large metropolis, she is the master of every situation with which the appealing drama confronts her. Not only because it is unlike anything else she has ever done before, but also because of its humanness —"Esmeralda" will be remembered as one of Miss Pickford's foremost character creations. Also 12th Chapter "Elmo the Mighty."

RICHMOND THEATRE

Gladys Leslie, will be seen at the Richmond Theatre tonight, in the new picture, "The Gray Towers Mystery," She rides one of the finest animals ever photographed in action.

This production, which is reported a masterpiece of big action and drama.

There is a tremendous mystery plot that remains to be unraveled. The unravelment forms a big climax.

"Smiling Bill" Parsons, sometimes known as "Lord of Laughter," and again as "Caliph of Chuckles," smiles his way once more into public view. This time the mirthful comedian comes in "Matching Billy" with the above as an extra attraction.

INGOMAR—"When My Ship Comes In

The story of Gouverneur Morris' latest work of fiction, "When My Ship Comes In," presented in its picturized version at the Ingomar theatre tonight, combines romance, adventure, mystery and love in a way that holds the attention from the flash of its title on the screen until the final fadeout. Some of the most beautiful exterior views, many of them taken near the water front of one of America's most fashionable summer resorts, form only one of the many interesting phases of this delightful photodrama, presenting Jane Grey, one of America's leading exponents of the speaking drama, and more recently won over to the silent drama.

NOTICE—New improvements are going in at Rosemont. Each succeeding day you will notice an advance both in street work and building improvements. Being duly appreciative of the patronage the trade is favoring us with, in addition to our regular "Ads" in the Washington daily papers, we are desirous of calling to your particular notice, through your home paper, the special prices we are selling staple and fancy groceries at all this week, different articles daily. It will be amply worth your time to call personally at our store and make selections.

Canned peas, beans, tomatoes, syrups and other commodities by the case.

We are obliged to again adopt the former prices at which we sold beef. This is necessitated by our continuance of handling only the choicest high grade steer cattle that is shipped into either this or the Washington market. We personally select the beef, and in the event that you expect to buy steaks, stews or roast cheaper than our prices, you must expect to sacrifice considerable in the way of quality.

Quality with us is of the utmost importance, price with you is secondary.
